Course Overview

ENG 255: American Literature II, Late Period

Course Hours: 3 credit hours

Course Description:

This course is an examination of various writers and their styles from the historical standpoint from 1865 to the present. The student will gain an appreciation of our literary heritage and writing styles through active classroom discussions and sharing personal interpretations from the reading of various works in different genres. Critical writing will be required. This course may require participation in activities and events outside the classroom that relate to the course outcomes.

Reading and Writing Assignments:

Reading Assignments run continuously throughout the course. An important element for understanding discussions, lectures, and writing assignments is a dedication by students to critically read all assignments on time. Short cuts to reading, such as viewing a movie, reading explanatory notes, or other vices in replacement of accomplishing the actual reading assignments, will set the student up for failure.

Writing Assignments will coincide with all readings. Students will write a variety of assignments, critical and creative. Students are expected to proofread, revise, and edit all work before submitting the final draft for grading. Students may inquire peer editing but all work must be the student's original work. Papers are due and accepted before/on the "due date." Papers will not be graded after the given "due date" regardless of excused or unexcused absence. Any papers received after the due date will be given 50% of the given credit for the assignment with no critique or evaluation of the work. All writing assignments must be the original work of the students.
